MICROSOFT OUTLOOK

Spend Less Time Searching Your Inbox

Stay Decluttered with Search Folders

THE PROBLEM

Email takes up more than a quarter of your workweek

And most of it isn't reading or writing—it's hunting for something that should take seconds to locate. When an inbox is mixed up and has no structure, every search starts from zero. That friction adds up fast.

28%

of the average workweek is spent on email

McKinsey Global Institute

70%

of workers say email is their primary source of workplace stress

cloudHQ / Speakwise, 2025

THE SOLUTION

A permanent search in your sidebar

A Search Folder is a saved query: a targeted view of your emails based on rules you define.

It looks like a folder but behaves like a filter—no manual filing or sorting required.

THE FEATURES

Change how your inbox works

Your inbox stays intact

Search Folders don't move or copy emails, so messages stay in their original location..

The filter runs itself

Once defined, a Search Folder stays current without any maintenance. Every time you open it, Outlook runs the query fresh.

Any query, any combination

Filter by sender, subject keyword, flag status, attachment, category, or any combination you need!

GET STARTED

Set a Search Folder up in under a minute

1. In the folder pane, right-click Search Folders and select New Search Folder.
2. Choose a preset (Unread mail, Mail from specific people, etc.) or create a custom Search Folder for full control.
3. Set your criteria, give the folder a name, and click OK. It appears in your pane immediately and stays current automatically.

BrainStorm®